* Excluding the China loan for the reconstruction activity in the central business district.

Data in previous months may have been adjusted to incorporate revisions received from the domestic banking system.

 Interest rate data from January 2012 are based on information sourced from new bank reporting forms. From that time the NRBT started calculating interest rates using weighted averages across banks, whereas beforehand the data presented were simple averages. The two changes have caused some breaks in the series. The term deposit data are currently being checked for accuracy.
